The story of khwada marathi movie is based on society and the problems that arises when a new entrant in the society comes. The main protagonists in this film are Nanda and Lata with Mahadev acting as a supporting character. Their entry creates havoc among the inhabitants of the village and social chaos ensues. They try to make money through their wit and spend it lavishly. However, this causes resentment among villagers and they decide to take revenge on them. On 11 May 2015, this film was completed and released in theatres. It was directed by Ashok Patki under Rajshri Productions which was produced by Sunil Lulla, Mahesh Samat and Girish Johar. All the Marathi movies, which are available to be viewed and downloaded through kickass torrents, are observed and written about in this blog. These movies have been introduced by the blog author. This blog explores the society and culture of khwada and contains much importance as well as importance to marathis for their art. The followers of khwada is very excited with this news since Mahadev has decided to make a comeback to his old profession. He was last seen in Dawood Ibrahim's "Aakrosh". His role in khwada marathi movie is similar to his role in "Aakrosh". The story starts with the introduction of the lead protagonists Nanda and Lata who are old friends. Nanda is married to Lata's sister Varsha while Lata is married to Mahadev, Nanda's brother. One fine day while Lata and Marie are shopping, they come across a hen (Kandhe) and they both take the hen home. When they return home, they cook and serve it to everyone in the house. Everyone in the house is very happy except for Mahadev who refuses to eat the hen. While they are eating, Nanda comes in and realises that Lata has cooked his favorite chicken (tike). He tells Lata not to cook chicken but instead make kebabs. Next day, Lata's sister Varsha comes. She wants to know about their financial status and how can they afford food for everyone in the house. She ends up learning that they are having an affair. Next day, Mahadev goes out to buy clothes for a marriage proposal he is making to Varsha's sister Pooja.
